

Early Journal Content on JSTOR, Free to Anyone in the World

This article is one of nearly 500,000 scholarly works digitized and made freely available to everyone in the world by JSTOR.

Known as the Early Journal Content, this set of works include research articles, news, letters, and other writings published in more than 200 of the oldest leading academic journals. The works date from the mid-seventeenth to the early twentieth centuries.

We encourage people to read and share the Early Journal Content openly and to tell others that this resource exists. People may post this content online or redistribute in any way for non-commercial purposes.

Read more about Early Journal Content at <http://about.jstor.org/participate-jstor/individuals/early-journal-content>.

JSTOR is a digital library of academic journals, books, and primary source objects. JSTOR helps people discover, use, and build upon a wide range of content through a powerful research and teaching platform, and preserves this content for future generations. JSTOR is part of ITHAKA, a not-for-profit organization that also includes Ithaka S+R and Portico. For more information about JSTOR, please contact support@jstor.org.

In Memoriam.

THE REV. CHARLES BAGGE SHULTZ, D.D.

was the son of the late Bishop Henry A. Shultz and Rebekah Bagge Shultz, and was born in Salem, N. C., on April 30, 1841. He died July 21, 1911. He joined the Society in 1862.

THE REV. SAMUEL STOTZ WARNER, son of Benjamin and Anna Louisa Stotz Warner, was born in Salem, N. C., on June 21, 1832. He died January 2, 1912. He joined the Society in 1888.

THE REV. HENRY ARTHUR JACOBSON, M.A.

The Rev. Prof. Henry Arthur Jacobson, M.A., born on November 12, 1844, became an Active Member of the Society when not quite 23 years of age, in 1867, and from that date until the day of his death on November 25, 1911, the Society scarcely had a more active member than he,—active not merely in the technical sense, but in the most literal and fullest sense of the word. He served as Treasurer for a number of years in the later '70's. About 1890 he was elected a member of the Board of Managers, thereby becoming a member of the Executive Committee, which position he held until elected to the Presidency in September, 1910. In addition he served on various special committees and in years gone by did much work in the Museum and Library. He was indefatigable in his zeal in preparing papers for the Annual Meetings, many of which have been preserved in the published Transactions of the Society. He possessed the characteristic instincts of a genuine antiquarian, being most painstaking and conscientious in all his research work. The same spirit evidenced itself in the way in which he took up the work of the Presidency of the Society. His election to this office was a well-deserved recognition of his zealous work in behalf of the Society. He considered no labor too exacting, when the welfare of the Society was concerned. In his death the Society has lost one of its most faithful members and this recital of his activities is adopted by the Executive Committee on behalf of the Society as an expression of its hearty appreciation of his unquestioned worth and as a memorial of his valued services.

LOUISE ELIZABETH (STADIGER) BORHEK, widow of Ashton C. Borhek, was a daughter of Herman Lawrence and Sophia (Shelly) Stadiger, and was born at Friedensville, July 11, 1846, and died in Bethlehem, June 1, 1911. She became a member of the Society in 1875.

EMMA JANE (HUBER) LEIBERT, wife of Charles E. Leibert, was a daughter of Francis E. and Maria (Berger) Huber, and was born June 29, 1858, at Bethlehem, and died January 5, 1911. She became a member of the Society in 1891.

THE REV. WM. HENRY RICE, D.D. was a son of James Alexander and Josephine (Leibert) Rice, and was born at Bethlehem, September 8, 1840, and died in South Bethlehem, January 10, 1911. Brother Rice became a member of our Society in 1858, and had been a Vice-President since 1876, his record of membership thus extending over the long period of more than 52 years. For a considerable portion of his ministerial service, he resided within easy reach of Nazareth, and therefore was a frequent visitor at the annual meetings of the Society. On a number of these occasions he communicated papers of historical interest. Even when he lived at a distance his interest in its affairs did not wane. In harmony with the efforts of our Society to erect memorial monuments, he took great interest in the erection and preservation of the monument near Gnadenhütten, Ohio, which commemorated the massacre of 96 Christian Indians by white rangers in 1782. While he was pastor of the Moravian Congregation at Gnadenhütten, Ohio, he was invited to be the orator of the day on the occasion of the Sesqui-centennial celebration at Lehigh, Pa., in 1905, to commemorate the destruction by hostile Indians of the Moravian mission station at Gnadenhütten on the Mahoning, November 24, 1755. His eloquent description of that tragic catastrophe and his earnest exhortations, imbued with devoted love for the Church of his forefathers will not soon be forgotten by the large audience which gathered to hear him. Through Brother Rice's departure another link is broken which connects the early days of our Society with the present time. Of untiring energy, eagerly enthusiastic in the furtherance of undertakings which were hedged about with difficulties, he literally died in the harness, which was ever his ardent desire.

CHRISTIAN OTTO BRUNNER

was the son of Samuel and Charlotte Amelia (Rudolphi) Brunner. He was born at Bethlehem, October 28, 1830, was educated in the Parochial school there, and as a young man served as clerk in various retail establishments in Bethlehem, Eckley and Philadelphia. In July, 1860, he became the first clerical employe of the Bethlehem Iron Company, and remained in its service for 41 years, until his retirement from business. Brother Brunner was closely identified with the work of our Church in many ways, his official position at the time of his death being that of a member of the Advisory Finance Board, which has charge of the investments of the Sustentation Fund. He was elected to this position on December 16, 1898, and was most faithful and conscientious in the fulfillment of all duties connected therewith. He was specially charged with the supervision of the Bookstore. He was likewise a most efficient Director of the Society for Propagating the Gospel among the Heathen. He was elected a member of this Society on September 1, 1870, and a Director on August 31, 1881, so that for more than 30 years he gave his thought and attention to this work, being especially concerned for the welfare of the Alaska Mission. He was very active in all manner of local church work, but the above offices were the ones that bound him to the work of the Church at large. He died September 7, 1911.

HERBERT W. WOLLE, son of Edwin P. and Maria Louise (Kummer) Wolle, was born September 2, 1848, and died December 4, 1911. He joined the Society in 1891.

ELIZABETH FRANCES (LOVEJOY) PRINCE, wife of Abraham C. Prince, was the daughter of Henry and Melinda (Wheeler) Lovejoy, and was born December 24, 1846, and died August 14, 1912. She joined the Society in 1891.

FREDERICK J. RICE,

son of John and Clarissa (Mies) Rice, born at Bethlehem, June 24, 1843, and died November 5, 1910. Joined the Society in 1894.

CHARLES E. LEIBERT

was a son of James and Lydia (Wieder) Leibert, and was born at Bethlehem, October 9, 1855, and died February 10, 1911. He joined the Society in 1891.

FRANK KUNKEL,

Secretary and Treasurer of this Society since 1881, departed this life at Nazareth, June 11, 1912. He was born in Moore Township, September 8, 1841, but spent the larger part of his life in Nazareth, first as teacher in the Parochial School, and, after the abandonment of that project, in business and as a Notary Public and Surveyor. He was prominently connected with the work of the Moravian Church for a long time; for many years he served as an elder of the congregation. But in the minds of most people his life will be especially connected with this Society, which he joined in 1879. To most of the membership his name invariably connects itself with the work of the organization whose welfare he had deeply in mind at all times. The success of every annual meeting, for years back, has been the result of his patient and far-seeing preparation, and there are few for whom these assemblages will not seem to be lacking in something essential since his familiar face shall no longer dominate them.

GRANVILLE HENRY,

the son of James and Mary Sautter Henry, was born at Bolton, near Nazareth, Northampton County, Pa., August 31, 1834, and departed this life on Sunday evening, June 30, 1912. His boyhood and youth were spent at his home and he received practically his entire education from his father, a man of the broadest and deepest culture. In 1846 he spent one year as a pupil at Nazareth Hall, but at the age of fourteen years took up the trade of gunsmith under the direct supervision of his father in the gun factory at Bolton, where for many years the famous Henry guns and rifles were manufactured. In the early days of the Civil War he answered the first call to arms and joined a regiment at Bethlehem, Pa. He was taken ill with typhoid fever, however, while his regiment was quartered in Philadelphia, and was unable again to enter service.

Brother Henry was a man of unique but splendid education, of the deepest and broadest culture in the very best and most enduring sense of these terms. His mind was stored with a wonderful variety of information, and he was blest with both a retentive and a reproductive memory. Thus he was able to come into the most sympathetic relation with all men. These characteristics peculiarly fitted him for the various offices which he held. He was a charter member of this Society, and his papers and books form a valuable part of the Society's work and are invaluable to the Moravian Historian. He had been a member of the Board of Trustees of Nazareth Hall and its President since the organization of the Board in 1893. His knowledge of and sympathy with the true spirit of Moravian education aided most materially in keeping the Hall true to its high standards of efficiency. His labor in this direction will find its enduring monument in the lives of generations of Hall Boys.

FRANCIS JORDAN, JR.,

was a son of Francis and Emily (Woolf) Jordan, and was born in Philadelphia, August 28, 1843, and died there September 10, 1911. He joined the Society in 1868.

WILLIAM HENRY JORDAN

was a son of Francis and Emily (Woolf) Jordan, and was born at Philadelphia, January 27, 1842, and died there December 29, 1910.

Brother Jordan became a member of our Society in 1859, and filled the office of Vice-President since 1869. During this long membership of more than 51 years, he gave evidence of his decided interest in the welfare of the Society in a variety of ways. He was a willing contributor to the cost of several of the monuments erected at various times by the Society. Along literary lines, besides a number of monographs published by himself relating to the History of Philadelphia and to the First Moravian Church in that city in early times, he prepared several papers for communication at our annual meetings. In addition to a number of smaller donations, he contributed to the collection of the Society a large number of portraits of its officers and of prominent clergymen of the Moravian Church. But that for which he is most conspicuously remembered is the addition to the Whitefield House, which was erected and dedicated to its appointed uses in 1907, as a memorial to his father, Brother Francis Jordan. This building afforded more commodious accommodations and modern facilities for visiting missionaries and their families, and likewise made possible a material enlargement of the quarters occupied by the Society on the second floor.

CONRAD MILLER

was born October 20, 1838, in Schwartzfels, Germany, and departed this life in Nazareth, March 29, 1912. He joined the Society in 1897.

THE REV. EDWARD THEODORE KLUGE

was born November 18, 1831, at Lititz, Pa. He was educated at Nazareth Hall, where he also taught from 1852 to 1858. He was married to Sister Annie L. Brickenstein, August 19, 1857, and ordained to the ministry, August 22, 1858, in Nazareth, by Bishop Peter Wolle. In a 40-years' pastorate he served the following congregations: Brooklyn, N. Y.; Emmaus, Pa.; Nazareth, Pa.; Lititz, Pa.; Bethlehem, Pa.; First Church, New York City. During this period he also served three years as Secretary of Publications, and five years as President of the Provincial Elders' Conference. He was the last surviving charter member of this Society and was deeply interested in the welfare of this organization. He not only contributed many valuable papers to its annals, but during his long retirement was its most efficient Librarian. He departed this life in Nazareth, September 21, 1912.

JANE ELIZABETH (CRAIG) DODSON, wife of Weston Dodson, daughter of William and Margaret Rebecca (Romig) Craig, was born at Nazareth, March 21, 1838, and died in Bethlehem, May 13, 1911. She joined the Society in 1890.